

Christine & Jeremy

writer NATASHA GARBER

02.07.15 Since the first day they met, Sept. 11, 2013, “not a day has gone by that we have not talked to each other,” says bride Christine about her groom Jeremy. This, despite the fact that Jeremy was involved in a major motorcycle accident in April, 2014, and suffered a serious brain injury. At the time, “We were unsure of what his recovery would look like, and I was obviously devastated and unsure of our future,” Christine says. Yet, strengthened by their faith and their devotion to each other, that future would come to look quite beautiful, indeed. On July 28, three months into his recovery, Jeremy proposed to Christine, and six months later, the pair wed, with a celebration marked by prayer, gratitude and an abundance of love: “We had our last dance to ‘Amen,’ by Dave Barnes,” Christine recounts. “We just held each other and swayed to the words, singing softly to each other. It was like everyone else had disappeared and it was just the two of us.”
