

Rachel & Kurt

07.11.14 The Dallas Arboretum and Botanical Gardens during autumn is not just beautiful, it's a fine place and time to pop the question, as Kurt did to Rachel: "The walkway was surrounded by thousands of pumpkins and decorated by beautiful seasonal flowers," recounts the bride. "The calming water of White Rock Lake behind us lent itself to the most perfect romantic backdrop ever." And the romance didn't end there. The couple, who met as students at UT Austin, celebrated their wedding at The Bell Tower on 34th Street, with 240 delighted friends and family members. The bride enchanted everyone in her gorgeous Watters gown, while the groom held his beloved's hands tightly during the deeply personal ceremony. Notes Rachel: "Kurt and I truly feel that our perfect evening lasted forever as we got to soak up every moment of happiness and fun of the party."
